Think of living a year or two after one is dead; dead to all practical intents and purposes, dead, with the autograph of death inscribed on brow and cheek and lip.

Thousands of women live for a year or two after all helplessness and happiness have gone out of their lives. When a woman becomes hopelessly helpless and unhappy she is practically dead. The young woman to whom the future is a dreary waste, the young wife who is a helpless, nervous invalid, the mother whose babes are a burden instead of a blessing, all these, unless they take the right measure to recover their health, are better dead than living. In the majority of cases these ghosts of women owe their condition to weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism. Frequently they have been deceived by the incorrect diagnosis of some obscure physician and do not understand the true nature of their trouble. It only costs a two-cent postage stamp for a woman to write and describe her condition to Dr. R. V. Pierce, an eminent and skillful specialist, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y. He will answer letters from ailing women without charge. He is the discoverer of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the greatest of all known medicines for women. It acts directly on the delicate organs concerned in maternity and makes them strong, healthy and vigorous. It banishes the dispositions of the anxious period and makes baby's coming easy and almost painless. It cures all disorders and displacements and checks exhausting drains.

"Previous to motherhood my wife was very sick," writes Dennis H. of Cleary, N. Y. "Two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription made her well and strong."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and constipation. One a dose. They never gripe.

A FIVE FRANC PIECE.

ONE THAT IS THE HOPE OF EVERY CREDULOUS FRENCHMAN.

The Story of Napoleon's Famous Coin and the Immense Fortune That Is Popularly Believed to Be Concealed Within It.

If you happen to have in your possession the particular French coin known as a 5 franc piece, you may unwittingly be a millionaire.

Such, at least, is the belief shared by hundreds upon thousands of credulous Frenchmen and Frenchwomen, many of whom spend most of their spare time destroying quantities of 5 franc pieces in the hope of realizing a fortune.

Dr. Marco-Leonardo Nardoz, the well known numismatist and one of the recognized authorities on coin lore, speaking of this curious condition of affairs, said:

"It is quite true that half France still believes in the existence of great wealth hidden in a 5 franc piece, although many numismatists hold that the fortune in question was long ago discovered and appropriated by one of the Rothschild family.

"The story of the strange 5 franc fortune legend may be briefly told. A 5 franc piece, to begin with, is a silver coin and is worth about 45 cts. Napoleon I was very anxious to make the coin a popular one, and with this end in view he caused it to be circulated everywhere throughout France that he had inserted in one of the silver pieces before it left the mint a bank note for 1,000,000 of these same 5 francs—roughly, about $200,000. Whether he really did this or not I cannot say for certain, but the weight of evidence would seem to show that it was done.

"In the manuscript memoirs of the Duc de Felice, Napoleon's minister of war, it is expressly stated that the emperor inclosed a note on the Bank of France, duly signed by the governors of that institution, in a split 5 franc piece; that the halves were then welded together, partially reminted and thrown in a heap of similar coins, which the emperor mixed with his own hands. These coins Napoleon took with him in a bag when he went to Boulogne and distributed lavishly en route, even dropping some of them out of his carriage windows. In this way it was impossible to keep track of the lucky coin.

"The news of this odd lottery spread far and wide, and the 5 franc piece leaped into immediate favor. From that day to this mutilation of the coin has been common in France, Switzerland, Belgium and elsewhere. Every year the Bank of France is requested to make good scores of pieces split in a vain search for the 5,000,000 franc bank note.

"There are many stories dealing with reputed finds of the fortune. Indeed when a man becomes suddenly rich in France it is common to hear people whisper, 'He must have found Napoleon's famous coin.'

"Some assert that the emperor kept the coin himself, but this hardly agrees with Napoleon's character. Still it is a current theory that some of the money which enabled Napoleon III to reach the imperial throne was found in the lucky silver piece, which his mother, Queen Hortense, had wheedled out of her brother-in-law.

"It was also common talk that General Boulanger had acquired the famous coin until the discovery that his money supplies came from the Duchess d'Uzes set that belief at rest.

"The most likely explanation as to why the 5 franc piece fails to turn up is that Baron Ferdinand de Rothschild, a French member of the great Jewish banking house, secured it. This account states that Baron de Rothschild, having investigated the tradition, and found sufficient proof of its truth, deliberately set to work to locate the note.

"He quietly bought in, and collected every 5 franc piece he could get, and his agents were notified to preserve and forward to Paris every 5 franc piece which reached them in Europe, Asia, Africa or America. In his office the baron kept three trusty men hard at work dissecting the coins.

"Some say that he had invented a plan for welding them together again, so as to defy detection; others maintain that he melted down the silver and sold it to the government en-bloc. The work was colossal, but in the end the baron's system is said to have conquered.

"He found the note for 5,000,000 francs, having spent nearly 1,000,000 to obtain it. The order was duly presented at the Bank of France and cashed by that institution.

"Plausible as this narration may seem, the great mass of Frenchmen refuse to credit it, and go on, year after year, splitting open their 5 franc pieces to look for Napoleon's note. It is certainly a tantalizing thought that some where in the world a check for $200,000 is knocking about hidden in an ordinary silver coin worth less than 5 shillings."—Pearson's Weekly.

Explained.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer tells a story to show that there is sometimes a great deal in the way of putting anything

"I understand that you said my eldest daughter was as homely as a mud fence, professor."

"You are quite mistaken, my dear madam. What I said was that your esteemed child reminded me of a mixture of terra firma and aqua pura combined in a practical boundary line."

"Oh! Is that all? Dine with us on Sunday, professor."

In the eighteenth century begging was a frightful nuisance in the German states. In Bavaria whole regiments had to be sent out to arrest and punish the professional beggars, and Cologne, with a population of only 40,000, had nearly 10,000 paupers.

He Saved Red Tape.

The late Senator Morrill of Vermont, was as careful of the public property as if he bought and paid for it out of his private purse. He always carefully untied and saved the piece of red tape that came around his mail, in consequence of which his room was the only committee room that never made a requisition for tape.

BIRDS OF A FEATHER.

When Senator Stewart was asked what action he thought the Senate would take if Mr. Quay presented his appointment to the Senate, made by the Governor of Pennsylvania, following the acquittal on the charge of criminal conspiracy by a Philadelphia jury, he said: "For the last century the Senate has been reversing itself on this question, but the last four cases have been decided against the appointee, and if this precedent is maintained, Mr. Quay will not be seated. But I do not believe that the Senate will be called on to settle this matter as it is my opinion that the Pennsylvania legislature will be called in extra session before the next session of Congress, and that Mr. Quay will be regularly elected." Mr. Stewart, said of the result of his trial: "I regard the verdict of the jury in Senator Quay's trial as a just one, and the only one that could have been honestly rendered on the evidence submitted. Senator Quay is infinitely better than any of his opponents."

Of course Stewart believes that Quay will be admitted to a seat in the Senate, and the wish is father to the belief. It is equally natural that he should regard Quay "infinitely better than any of his opponents." They are tarred with the same brush; both of them are the tools of corruption, and co-workers in everything that is corrupt and infamous, that has come before the Senate when they were both members of that body. The Journal predicted when Quay was appointed by Governor Stone that if it came to a vote upon the unconvicted criminal's admission to a seat, Stewart's vote would be recorded on the affirmative side of the roll. In the nature of things it could not be otherwise.

WILL NEVER SURRENDER.

The silver question will never die out until it is ignored by the Democratic party, and that party will never die as long as the republic continues to exist. The Democratic party will never abandon the silver issue while it lives, or until it is settled rightly, definitely and for all time. With this combination of facts the silver issue will continue to confront the enemies of the white metal until the coeval demise of the republic and the party, or until silver is restored to its former place in the currency volume of the nation. Like Banquo's ghost, silver will not down. It is stronger to-day and possesses more vigorous life than when, three years ago, it was sustained by the votes of 8,600,000 from the bone and sinew of our nation. Even with the unlikely defeat of Bryan in 1900, the cause or issue would not be buried, but would remain on the political surface and would advance to the front four years thereafter with more vigor and hopefulness than ever before. No one who honestly believes in the principle of free and unlimited coinage of silver will surrender to the enemies of independent bimetalism, and such honest belief is increasing and making itself more manifest as the days, weeks and months roll by.

Our Republican contemporaries grow jubilant upon very small provocations. They had their reports of the late decisions of the Supreme Court on the gubernatorial contest case, "Victory for McMillan!" "McMillan the Governor of Nevada!" "The State will Have a Republican Governor," etc. When the fact is considered that the court's decision only admits votes that were counted in the official canvass, and which elected Sadler by a plurality of twenty-two, it is hard for a disinterested observer to discern where the cause for hilarity comes in.

At the expense of the United States, still classed as a republic, another of McKinley's roving Commissions is plying its way to Samoa, where a bearded King elected by the natives, has just been dethroned and another tattooed savage has been crowned by foreign retainers. It is sent out to put and decide the momentous question: "Under which King, Bezonian? Speak, or die!"—Placerville, Cal., Democrat.

Its going to take 45,000 men to handle the taking of the national census. That's a little more than Nevada's population, including women, children, Indians, Chinese and members of the Silver party. However, if Uncle Sam is short of hands, Nevada can furnish quite a nice little force from the official surplus in our State institutions.

GREATFUL Washoe county farmers are flocking daily to the Gazette office to thank President McKinley and Brother Bragg for the precious moisture which has filled Nevada with rejoicing. The editor modestly disclaims any of the credit which some of the soil tillers are disposed to confer upon him, and assures his grateful admirers that he is only an humble disciple of the Great Dispenser of all blessings, whose hind quarters are in the Presidential chair at Washington. Some fruit growers have mildly protested about the destruction of their crops, but Brother Bragg assures them that the devil has obtained possession of the frost annex to the weather bureau and somewhat curtly advises them to go to the wicked Democrats with their complaints and grievances.

THE BATTLE OF MANILA.
(May 1, 1898.)

Darkness surrounded them, no beacon guided them;
Dewey commanded them; bravely they sailed
Into the harbor there, of sweet Manila fair,
Only to "do and dare," e'en if they failed:

'Twas on the first of May—who can forget that day?
Just as the dawn's first ray shed its dim light;
Dewey was brave and cool, he came not there to fool;
His was a master's rule—"Make a good fight."

Cannon to right of them, cannon to left of them;
Cannon in front of them volleyed with might,
Stormed at with shot and shell, boldly they fought and well,
Not one brave "Yankee" fell. Oh, what a fight!

Spaniards fell by the score, what though they fought and swore,
Bathed in their Spanish gore, theirs was defeat.
Sunk were their ships and burned; they their sad lesson learned,
How they had rightly earned, justice complete.

'Twas not revenge he sought, but with this noble thought,
And this grand purpose wrought, "Avenge the Maine!"
And thus a gallant crew, to Dewey's standard flew,
And soon the Spaniards knew disgrace and pain.

All hail to Dewey's name—on history's page 'twill claim
A diadem of fame forever bright.
And in Heaven's courts above, in God's own book of love,
'Tis written there to prove that right is right.

BREVITIES.

Queen Victoria was eighty years old yesterday. Her Majesty can't deny her age as it is a matter of official record.

A couple of hoodlums, who brutally assaulted T. M. Fillebrown at Virginia, were sentenced to 180 days each in the county jail.

Mrs. McRae, sister-in-law of the late Mrs. Finlayson, and her daughter Mrs. Algeo, returned last evening to their home at Pleasant Grove in California.

The Carson Appeal naturally takes sides against the San Francisco city authorities, who are trying to break up a notorious gambling den on Market street.

Miss Georgie Johnson, stenographer for the U. S. Court at Carson, came down on last evening's V. & T. and will take the train this morning for Washington, D. C. She goes as an attorney for a number of persons who have claims against the government for furnishing supplies, etc., during the Plute war.

Carson City Election.

There was a City election held at Carson yesterday. A gentleman who came down on the V. & T. last evening said the result was not known when the train left. He said it was one of the most spirited elections ever held at Carson, and that the votes polled would exceed five hundred. The contest was for and against the Carson Water Company. The News of last evening contained no information in relation to matters.

Professor Andree Heard From.

News from Iceland on April 30th is to the effect that a bottle had been found in some polar ice containing a message from Professor Andree. The latter was found near Husavik, north of Reikiavik, by a man who sent it to Reikiavik with a request that it be sent to Christians, Norway. The contents of the note will not be known until the next mail from Iceland, the time of which is uncertain.

"The Battle of Manila."

The poem written by Mrs. H. H. Clark and published in this morning's JOURNAL is a gem. We are pleased to give it place in our columns.

Looking for Lime.

Gott Haist, H. Zadija and a gentleman who is one of the promoters of the new wood pulp paper mill to be erected on the Truckee river near Floriston, visited Dayton Monday. Lime is one of the properties used in considerable quantities to make wood pulp paper, and there is a probability that when the paper mill starts up the Dayton lime kilns will furnish this product. It is said that 450 men will soon be employed on the new paper plant.—Dayton Times.

There is no necessity for going out side of Washoe county for lime enough to supply the entire coast. There are mountains of limestone in the vicinity of Pyramid and Mud lakes, and probably there are other deposits nearer the railroad which could be found by a little prospecting. Any enterprising person by opening a quarry and building a number of kilns would doubtless find it a profitable investment.

WILL BE HELD RESPONSIBLE.

THE Court of Inquiry delegated to look into the charges brought by General Miles, it is generally believed, will report that the beef furnished the army was first class and will account for that which was spoiled, to neglect in caring for it after it was received. Notwithstanding the indisputable evidence that the beef was chemically treated, it is predicted that the contrary will be reported, with censure to General Miles for making the charge. The people are prepared for such a verdict, and are equally prepared to reverse it at the one day session of the great court of the people, which will be in the early part of November, A. D. 1900. The popular verdict will be expressed by the repudiation of the man who has prostituted executive power to uphold a gang of government robbers and soldier-poisoners and to endeavor to bring disgrace upon a brave commander, an honorable and conscientious man. It is not Alger, Eagan or any other of the thieving gang who will be held responsible for the infamous murder of our brave soldier boys, or for the persecution of the gallant soldier who exposed the infamy. It is President McKinley, who, if not himself a conspirator in the first instance, was accessory after the fact by his shameful intervention of power to protect the scoundrels at the expense of the reputation of one, the latches of whose shoes he is unworthy to unloose. It is he who possessed the power to meet out justice, and which power he so misused, who will be held responsible by the court of the last and highest resort, and from which there is no appeal. So let the predicted verdict of the packed jury of McKinley, Alger, Eagan et als., be recorded. Its only effect upon the people will be greater indignation toward the robbers and poisoners and their executive protector, with greater love and admiration for the proposed victim of their foul conspiracy.

POLITICALLY RELAXED.

The JOURNAL is sorry to notice that the Salt Lake Tribune has abandoned the silver cause and gone back to its first love, the gold-bug Republican party. In a labored editorial of a column length, Judge Goodwin endeavors to explain the cause for the change. When boiled down it amounts to nothing more or less than the stereotyped chestnuts of the gold-bug press which were worn threadbare long before the Tribune editor could muster moral courage enough to cut loose from the party which he has now rejoined. The gist of the entire article is contained in less than a couple of lines—"If silver is ever restored it will have to come from across the sea." We never expected such unpatriotic words of national abasement to fall from the pen of Judge Goodwin, and we can only attribute them to pique or disappointment, or perhaps his intense hatred of Democracy and the Democratic party, which he was never able to conceal, even when a member of a party which was acting in unison with the one which formulated and constructed the bimetallic platform at Chicago in 1896.

While we regret the loss of the Tribune to the cause, we are consoled by the fact that more than twice the number of old-line Republicans are coming into the great silver party of the nation than silver Republicans of 1896 are abandoning the cause or the principle. One hundred journals of the recognized ability of the Tribune, in addition to the present gold-bug press, would fail to perceptibly check for a single moment the tide of bimetallicism which is moving steadily onward and increasing its volume as it comes nearer to the goal of victory.

By the reports of the national bank of this country it will be seen that they have at least five times as much money loaned out, than there is in existence in the United States. On this the banks are receiving interest, while the depositors get nothing. And yet the gold bugs who control the Republican party, class as anarchists all who protest against the privilege of the banks controlling the currency volume of the country.

ACCORDING to the dispatches President McKinley is still in the hands of a dentist. He is probably in better company than when in the hands of such friends as Hanna, Alger, Eagan & Co.

MAY Day and Dewey Day coming together makes the date doubly interesting. It is now a gala day for both Flora and Mare.

THE San Francisco Chronicle, like most of the Republican papers, has a Presidential candidate for the Democrats in 1900. The Chronicle's favorite is Judge Maguire of San Francisco. While the defeated candidate for Governor of California possesses, all the merits ascribed to him by the Chronicle, they were not sufficient to avert its better opposition last year as against Gage, the Southern Pacific's candidate. There is no harm done by the Republican advice to Democrats, and if it is a source of comfort or amusement to the former, we hope they will continue it. It certainly is a source of confidence to the Democrats, for it is conclusive evidence that their enemy dreads most of all, the candidate who will be nominated and elected—and that candidate is one William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska.

The Republican party is wrong on the expansion question; wrong in its financial system; wrong in its support of trusts; wrong—in Kansas—in its advocacy of prohibition; wrong in its extravagance and wrong in its tendencies towards centralization of power in the government. There never was a more propitious and auspicious time for Democrats to stick to their principles, the land marks of Democracy, than now.—Barney Sheridan.

The farmers of the Truckee Meadows are busily engaged preparing land for the purpose of planting onion seed. Indications point to a large acreage of the "odoriferous fruit."

Because big Pat O'Connor would not listen to a story being told by Tommy Sadler at Butte City, the latter tried to kill O'Connor by taking three shots at him. Both are well known in Nevada.

The Junior Christian Endeavorers of the Congregational Church surprised Mr. Jones, their pastor, with a candy pull last night in the church kitchen. The event was in honor of the Reverend gentleman's birthday.

F. C. Dickinson departed for his Red Rock ranch yesterday afternoon. He paid this office a pleasant call and paid for the JOURNAL, which he has been taking for thirty years. We don't mean though that he owed for all that time.

If the JOURNAL made a mistake about the date of Queen Victoria's birthday, it isn't going to apologize to Allen Bragg about it. It's a matter which exclusively concerns the JOURNAL scribe and Her Most Gracious Majesty, Queen of Great Britain and Empress of India.

THE STORE DETECTIVE.

One Occasion Where He Got Decidedly the Worst of It.

The tables were turned upon a woman detective in one of the large department stores recently when a woman whom she had been following from counter to counter turned on her and not only pulled her hair, but tore her gown. To a policeman who was summoned by the detective the shopper said that she was not a thief, and that the detective's espionage was an insult. No arrest was made.

The female detectives are known to the regular patrons of the stores where they are employed, and it is not improbable, when the shopper said that it was an insult to be followed by this woman, that she was thinking what opinion the other shoppers might form of her. One store in this town which obtained a lot of free advertising several years ago because of the energy of its female detective has paid heavily for it since. It was a store which by its arrangement offered great temptation to shoplifters, and undoubtedly it suffered from them. The woman detective was engaged, and as she was the pioneer of her class she attracted so much attention that she became unduly ambitious in her line of work. If a shopper happened to pick up an article and walk to another counter with it, a habit of many women, the detective was right beside her, and she felt that in the eyes of the sleuth she was a probable thief, even if no arrest was attempted.

The annoyance of this woman's actions became so great and the numbers of arrests made by her was so large that the old patrons of the store felt away. They felt that the risk of being mistaken for a shoplifter outweighed the advantage of the bargains offered.—Chicago Chronicle.

most Curious Clock.

One of the most curious clocks in the world is that which Amos Lane of Amides, Nev., constructed some time ago. The machinery, which is nothing but a face, hands and lever, is connected with a geyser, which shoots out an immense column of hot water every 38 seconds. This spouting never varies to the tenth of a second, and therefore a clock properly attached to it cannot fail to keep correct time. Every time the water spouts up it strikes the lever and moves the hands forward 38 seconds.

Fishing in the Truckee.

Two local sports who do not have a proper fear of the American people before them, or anywhere else for that matter, went fishing on Dewey day in the Truckee. The catch made by these reprobates numbered at sundown seventy-five trout that would average not less than five pounds to the fish. It would, no doubt, have been well not to have said anything about the catch, as it is two to one bet that Carson and Virginia will become fish hungry at once.

A couple of the JOURNAL's force went fishing yesterday down about Glendale. They returned about 9 p. m. and reported that they caught fifty trout averaging 6 pounds, 4 ounces and 19 grains each. They left them down at the slaughter house to be dressed for market.

Please Phone Again.

The person who telephoned the JOURNAL office yesterday in relation to an ad will please communicate again to-day, as the receiver at this end did not catch the name.

TOWN AND COUNTY.
The County Commissioners yesterday, acting as town dads, refused the petition of W. W. Shaff to erect a wooden building within the fire limits.
Town bills were allowed, including bond bills, to the amount of $8,590.
A petition from Reno merchants praying for an ordinance requiring all itinerant merchants and traders to pay a monthly license of $75, will be considered at the meeting to-day.
As County Commissioners the board rejected the claim of the Office Supply Company for $1,498. Beck and Frazer voted for rejection and Hymers to allow the claim.
The board ordered that bonds be issued for the town of Wadsworth to the amount of $3,000 for fire purposes.
The President Cables to Dewey.
The President cabled to Admiral Dewey the congratulations of the American people, which was a very fitting thing to do on the anniversary of the greatest naval victory in some respects that is known in history. The destruction of a fleet of naval vessels without the loss of a man had not been recorded until Dewey had accomplished the work by his fleet and guns.
As events follow each other requiring attention, we fail to take in account the fullness of some of the greatest among them, and it is believed that Dewey's victory at Manila is one of those.
Old Board Elected.
The Carson election yesterday resulted in the election of the old Board of Trustees—Myers, James and Wagner. The election issue was city ownership of water works, which is favored by the Board elected. If Reno history repeats itself at Carson the result of the election will be the first step to a prolonged and expensive course of litigation, which is likely to be followed by legislative interference and the final defeat of the entire proposition.
New Millinery.

What the People Say About Dewey Day.
Satisfaction by the people in general is expressed over the pleasant time had by all at the impromptu celebration and observance of Dewey Day in Reno. Everybody says it was a success and some of the people say it made them feel good to learn that such general good feeling prevailed in favor of keeping and helping out the Philippines. It is not humane to desire the death of any human being, but it would not be a very bad thing if Aguinaldo and some of his immediate gang were some where else than in the Philippines.
"Cinderella."
The ladies of Trinity Guild are putting forth every effort to make the "Cinderella" extravaganza a success in every particular. The little ones who will take part are being diligently drilled in their different representations, and the principal characters will be taken by some of Reno's best talent. British and Russia in China.
It appears from late developments that England and Russia are making partition of China under a novel heading called "Sphere of Influence." Uncle Sam is taking comfort in the fact that is given out by the parties to the division that American rights will not be interfered with. The rights mentioned are without question treaty rights and trade interests that the United States have with China.

Trouble at Bluefields.
The disturbance at Bluefields, Nicaragua, appears to have become chronic. Tores, the ruling tyrant at present in that country, is making things a little too lively for Americans. It is presumed from the circumstances existing in the spurious republic that the people and their tyrant have not learned that the United States has a navy.
